

Daily Herald, December 27, 2007

An estimated $99 million earmarked for the completion of the James A. Lovell Federal Health Care Center in North Chicago was included in an omnibus appropriations bill President Bush signed Wednesday. The funding for the effort -- a unique, joint venture between the Navy and the Veterans Affairs Department -- keeps the hospital on schedule to open in 2010, according to a news release from U.S. Rep. Mark Kirk, a leading proponent.